

Debashish Bhattacharyya

Director at Vriksh Consulting Pvt Ltd

With over 26 years in consulting and a strong engineering background, Debashish Bhattacharyya is a transformative leader, mentor, and advisor in SAP, Siemens PLM, and business process transformation. As Director at Vriksh Consulting and former Chairman of PanIIT Alumni India, he helps line, functional, and technical managers become global consultants, blending practical insights with deep business acumen to shape impactful careers.

Throughout his illustrious journey, he has advised organizations on aligning business processes with strategic goals, managed P&L responsibilities, led vertical and horizontal practices, and driven large-scale restructuring and growth initiatives across private, public sector units, multinational corporations, and government ministries. His tenure at Siemens Information Systems Ltd. spanned nearly 17 years, where he played pivotal roles in SAP practice leadership, delivery of government mega-projects, and training initiatives across India.

Previously, he co-founded Erudio Consulting Services, offering performance advisory and ERP training, and held senior consulting roles in strategic IT and business transformation. His early years as an engineer at BHEL and Escorts Ltd. gave him deep expertise in CNC manufacturing, CAD/CAM systems, and steam turbine technologies– an engineering grounding that continues to inform his strategic vision.

His extensive experience spans leadership roles in major organizations like Siemens, BHEL, and Escorts, where he drove strategic IT initiatives, SAP practice management, and large-scale public sector projects. Known for aligning technology with business goals, he continues to influence industry transformation while nurturing talent across diverse sectors and consulting practices

Debashish Bhattacharyya blends technical excellence, operational leadership, and people development into every role he assumes. Today, he continues to shape the future of consulting while nurturing the next generation of global business leaders.

Please join us in welcoming Debashish Bhattacharyya to the UNI
Network Group Advisory Board Member